

Her Health Restored

THE misery of illness can only be realized by those who have experienced it. Nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, neuralgia and that miserable feeling of unrest, can easily be cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative. So certain is Dr. Miles of this fact that all druggists are authorized to refund price paid for the first bottle tried, providing it does not benefit. Mrs. Henry Bruns, wife of the well known blacksmith at Grand Junction, Iowa, says: "I was troubled with sleeplessness, nervousness, headache and irregular menstruation; suffering untold misery for years. I used various advertised remedies for female complaints besides being under the care of local physicians, without help. I noticed in Dr. Miles' advertisement the testimonial of a lady cured of ailments similar to mine, and I shall never cease to thank that lady. Her testimonial induced me to use Dr. Miles' Restorative and Nerve and Liver Pills, which restored me to health. I cannot say enough for Dr. Miles' Remedies." Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee. First bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nerve free. Address: DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Gentlemen—I have been using Wrights Celery Capsules since November, 1894, and find them to be as recommended. I first began taking them while at Hot Springs, Ark., under treatment for Sciatic Rheumatism, Liver and Stomach trouble. Constipation which I had been a long sufferer. I found the Celery Capsules gave me great relief from the beginning and have used them ever since. With pleasure, and unhesitatingly, I recommend them to any and all suffering with like afflictions or either of them.

THE PUBLICATION OF THE ROLL OF HONOR IS BEGUN.

All over the country the demand is heard, Publish the pension list! It comes from the citizens who are taxed indirectly at the rate of $10 for every voter, or at the rate of $2 for every man, woman, and child in the United States. In order to enable the Government to meet the monstrous annual pension charge. It comes from the honest pensioner himself. Least of all men does he desire that the roll on which his name stands shall be loaded with fraud or discredited by just suspicions.

After careful consideration of the initiative in its various aspects, The Sun makes public this morning the names, rates of pension, and addresses of all pensioners in receipt of more than $45 per month from the Treasury. Our broad reasons for doing this are two in number.

First we wish to establish the principle that the pension list is a roll of honor, and that the pensioner whose name belongs there by right has nothing to fear, but much to gain by the publication of all the names. Whatever frauds exist are practically covered by the system of secrecy which has been the mistaken policy of the Pension Office for nearly a third of a century. Secrecy is the cloak of fraud in all the business, and under that cloak the list has grown to its present enormous dimensions. The process of publication properly begins with the higher pensions.

The fact must be kept in mind that in the list printed to-day there is probably the minimum percentage of fraud. The specially granted pensions are here, such as the $5,000 a year pensions of Mrs. Garfield; but the great bulk of the names included are those of the veteran privates whose injuries in actual military service were so severe, and whose resulting disability was so nearly absolute that under the general pension law they were clearly entitled to their $100 a month, their $72 a month, or their $50 a month. In the nature of things, this particular installment of the pension list represents the minimum of deception, of imposition, of misrepresentation of pension agents' juggling. That is why it ought to be put forth first of all. If any part of the list will withstand the severest scrutiny this part will. Here are the surviving patriots and heroes who suffered most for their flag and country.

Spread this roll of the honored brave! We invite those of our esteemed contemporaries who are with The Sun in the effort to promote a thorough investigation and purgation of the rolls to publish such parts of the enormous list as concern their respective territories. Let the list be studied with admiration and gratitude in every State, city, and town. Copyright does not apply to the roll of honor.

Our second purpose is to afford to the country an impressive object lesson in dimensions. The names of the pensioners receiving annually from $540 to $5,000 occupy nearly fifteen columns of this newspaper. Yet they number only 7,568 in all. They constitute but a little over one-third of one per cent of the gigantic total of 976,041. The annual expenditure represented by this fragment of the list is less than $2,000,000; that is to say, about one-fortieth of the total annual expenditure. If The Sun should undertake the publication of the entire list of 976,041 names, giving a single line to each pensioner in the list, it would cost $2,000,000; that is to say, about one-fortieth of the total annual expenditure. If The Sun should undertake the publication of the entire list of 976,041 names, giving a single line to each pensioner in the list, it would cost $2,000,000; that is to say, about one-fortieth of the total annual expenditure.

Such is the magnitude of the pension list thirty-one years after the end of the civil war. National interests of the grave character requires the publication of the entire list. The job is beyond the power of any one newspaper. It must be done by the Government itself, by means of lists prepared, sections and posted in the public buildings, and according to geographical distribution. The roll of honor is publicly established. Now let Congress complete it.

A bill, having for its object compelling the marriage will be introduced during the present session of Congress. It will also ask for the establishment of a bureau of matrimony and the appointment of a commissioner. It is stated that 60 per cent of the marriageable men of New York and Massachusetts decline to enter into the state of conjugal felicity.

Coughs That Kill

are not distinguished by any mark or sign from coughs that fail to be fatal. Any cough, neglected, may sap the strength and undermine the health until recovery is impossible. All coughs lead to lung trouble, if not stopped.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Cures Coughs

"My wife was suffering from a dreadful cough. We did not expect that she would long survive, but by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, she was cured. I tried it first, and it cured my cough. The result was no beneficial than the one I found to my great surprise that she was cured." R. B. HUMPHRIES, Sussex, Ga.

"My little daughter was taken with a distressing cough, which for three years defied all the remedies I tried. At length, on the urgent recommendation of a friend, I began to give her Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After using one bottle I found to my great surprise that she was improving. Three bottles completely cured her." J. A. GRAY.

Here's Your Ideal Husband and Wife.

Editors Gill Boyle and Jack Harris, of the Louisville Post, in order, no doubt, to find out how many other men agreed with them and their wives, offered prizes for the best short essays on "The Ideal Husband" and "The Ideal Wife." Many replies were received, and the winning contributions are here reproduced. It is interesting to know that J. A. McWilliams, of Jefferson county, who won the gentleman's prize, is a crusty bachelor. Mrs. Marion Wolford Wayis, of Garrard county, who wrote of the ideal husband, is a gifted woman, noted especially for her skill as a painter. The winning productions are as follows:

THE IDEAL WIFE.

Pure, chaste and refined, yet "not too bright nor too good for human nature's daily food;" educated and fond of good literature, yet domestic and fond of home; amiable, gentle and in love with her husband, yet spirited and not languishing with love; neat, yet not fastidious; witty, yet not sarcastic; faithful, tender and true through life to him, yet not pushing nor selfish in her devotion; considerate and charitable in all things, yet not easily imposed upon; cheerful and optimistic, yet not flippant nor wanting in deep feeling; self-reliant and strong-minded, but not bold, manly nor obstinate; honest and vigorous in constitution, yet without the least suggestion of grossness. Add to this symmetry of form and beauty of feature, and as the diamond is to the ring, so crown all these qualities of mind and heart with an unflinching trust and devotion to God, as incarnated in Jesus Christ, and to my mind you have the ideal wife.

THE IDEAL HUSBAND.

Not a bit to draw, If any can. Without a flaw, The model man, Why vainly seek, With pen to trace, His grand physique Or noble face?

FIGHTING PLUTOCRACY.

The New Time in its January number sounds the keynote of the opposition to the currency plans of President McKinley and Secretary Gage. This able magazine is now the recognized leader in the fight against the money power.

"The West Coast Review" published by Chas. A. Towne, the brilliant chairman of the Silver Republican National Committee. He handles Compeller Eckels without gloves, and charges him with dense ignorance on the subject under discussion. Mr. Towne accuses the Republican party leaders with despicable duplicity and with the betrayal of solemn pledges.

"The Menace of Plutocracy" is discussed by Congressman M. W. Howard, of Alabama. Among the famous contributors to this splendid number are Prof. W. H. H. Lecky, of the English Parliament; Congressman D. B. Henderson, of Iowa; Congressman Stark, of Nebraska; Prof. J. E. Commons, of Syracuse University; Hon. John G. Bradshaw, who treats of "Single Tax and Labor;" John W. Breckinridge, Senator Marion Butler, Helen M. Gougar, Imogene Fales, Rev. Myron W. Reed, Senator William M. Stewart, Prof. Frank Parsons and many other of the best writers and thinkers of the country.

Twenty-five illustrations, including several striking cartoons, are scattered through the pages of the January New Time. This magazine has passed the 50,000 mark, and is a power to be reckoned with. Chicago has at last a magazine of the first rank. Publishers, Charles H. Kerr & Company, 56 Fifth Avenue, Chicago.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bites,' and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at Perry & Thomas' Drug Store, Sacramento to W. G. White.

IN MEMORY OF IDA WAGERS.

Last Saturday evening, January 28, after twilight had drawn her curtain, the Death Angel tapped at the door of the sick chamber and called "home" dear, patient, suffering little Ida, eldest daughter of Mr. Jonah Wagers, of Wagsville, Ky. The entire community was anxiously grieved at this sad news, yet her death was not unexpected. Although only 12 years of age, the fatal disease, consumption, had taken its firm grip upon her and for several weeks little Ida had been a great sufferer.

She was greatly beloved by all who knew her sweet, gentle ways, and it is sad to think her so young and so pure to be taken from her dear, beloved father, brother, sisters and loving friends, yet when we think of her intense suffering here and now realize her happiness in the "beautiful city of God," we would not call her back to suffer more. Her disease baffled the skill of the most learned physicians. None could reach the vital spot but the "Great Physician," and He has taken her on high where she has donned the garment of a white-robed angel and has joined her dear mother, who has well come her into the Home of Glory with outstretched arms.

Little Ida died peacefully and told her loved ones not to grieve, that she was going to sleep in Jesus. Monday morning at 11:30 a very able and beautiful discourse was delivered by Bro. Parsons, then little Ida's body was borne by loving hands to the family grave yard and tenderly laid to rest by the side of mother and friends.

May God bless the bereaved parent, sisters and brother, and when the final summons comes to them may they be prepared to enter the Pearly Gates and join the loved ones who stand with beckoning hands near the Great White Throne.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Black velvet bands studded with pearls are worn around the neck.

Lace panels decorate skirts of black or colored velvet.

Evening gowns are very modest in cut at the neck.

The newest house and evening gowns are demure-trimmed.

Black not over color is always charming for evening wear.

Narrow fringes similar to those which appeared on the best gowns of our grandmothers, are very fashionable.

A stately reception gown is of rich, heavy gray satin, softened by trimmings of chiffon.

Round waists are the rule for evening wear. With them are worn either fancy girdles, slashes or crushed belts.

Some delightful suits shown by Best & Co. for young boys are of corduroy, made with full blouse, slightly Russianized, and full trousers and completed by Russian military service cap. Upon the visor of the cap appears an American eagle.

Most comfortable and elegant street jackets are of rich broadcloth trimmed with silk braid and lined with fur.

Tuckings are much used on children's clothes, either in silk or wool materials.

They are frequently finished with heading through which ribbon is drawn.

Children's sleeves are small copies of those worn by their elders, fitting the arm fairly well until near the shoulder, where they merge into fullness, or are headed by frills, puffs or draperies.

Handsome coats are supplemented by muffs to match, the front of the muffs being adorned with flowers similar to those on the hat.

The Henderson Gleaser says: "A couple lately sought fame by being married in a cage with two lions at a 'Zoo.' The same day a free woman married a convict in a prison cell, and a giggling couple mounted a stove which became theirs at the close of the ceremony, when one reads these, and also of the mock marriage between tiny children at charity fairs, one better comprehends the growing love for which solemn ceremonies are invented."
